

Please do not pass legislation to limit the efficacy of our state's do not call list. Too many calls are still getting through already.

I signed up for the do not call list as soon as it was available to do so and still received in excess of 5-9 soliciation calls each day, usually between the hours of 6pm-9pm.

Thank goodness it is just my husband and I as it minimally disruptive. If I had children to attend to, calls during those hours would be particularly bad. If anything, please make it more difficult for solicitors to get our names. Companies should not be allowed to sell the names of their patrons to others so that telemarketers can harass them.
